Maria Giron DeMarza, MD
PGY1

Medical School: Universidad San Francisco Xavier de Chuquisaca - Facultad de Medicina (Country Bolivia)

Medical Interests: I'm passionate about Primary Care because it's where real relationships begin. I love being someone patients can rely on—someone who listens, supports, and walks with them through life. It's not just about treating symptoms; it's about seeing the whole person.

Hobbies: Crafting is my creative outlet—I love working with my hands and bringing ideas to life, whether it's DIY projects or handmade gifts. Baking is part of the fun, too, especially when it involves sharing treats with friends and family.

Fun Fact: Formula 1 is a true passion of mine. I've followed the sport for years and love the strategy, precision, and adrenaline that come with every race weekend.
